I really want to improve my skills. I mean, just writing code can lead to building apps that change lives all over the world. Look at Facebook—it's connected over two billion users, helping people stay in touch with friends and family without those expensive phone bills.

Sure, you can do things on your own, but there's that old Jamaican saying: 'If you want to go fast, go alone. If you want to go far, go together.' I take that to heart when I think about my career. I'm eager to team up with like-minded folks to create something that really matters and makes a positive impact on society. It's always on my mind!
